MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Phone Call to <sup>02</sup> [VIRAGNA-1 in London <sup>08</sup> (011-441-229-0325)],
31 Jan 75, 1710-1715

1. This time a man answered. I asked for "La signora Telma". (If asked, I would have said I was "un amigo suyo de Milano".) [V-1] came to the phone in just a moment. I wished her a happy birthday and she said she had a roomfull of people celebrating with her. I could hear a lot of noise and voices, but the phone was apparently in a different room; <sup>02</sup> [V-1] talked freely though she wanted to keep the conversation brief.

2. I first asked if she still planned to go to the wine district soon. She answered by asking me if I had received her letters. No. What was uppermost in her mind was to alert us that the Cubans were going to cause a scandal involving the CIA. She said the Cubans ("family of Enrique") were going to surface a person who has been a CIA agent for 12 years. Thinking that [V-1] was referring to the Agee case, I said "that fellow" had already written a book and was all in the open. She said no, this case involves "a person of their own nationality", that is, a Cuban. She said she explained everything in the letter she mailed to us last week. She asked that I call right after we receive the letter - tentatively Tuesday evening.

3. Regarding the trip to Portugal, she said she will be going in about a week.

4. I asked if there was anything new about the manuscript. She said she did not have specific information that it had been published but she thought there was a good chance that it had been published.
